

6516208468.txt

XM provides outstanding service with the instant weather and traffic conditions for the cities it covers. It is far superior to the competition. It allows for the motoring public to receive up to date information on traffic and weather for the area. If there is an accident you know about it well in advance and am able to plan an alternate route around the accident. By being able to plan your alternate route you are assisting the local and state police by not being part of the traffic jam from the accident. XM should be able to continue broadcasting this information. It is a valuable asset especially to the trucking industry.

Arthur E Dyer